

Behrouz Akhbari

is a motivated student at the University of Toronto seeking to leverage skills and experience in computer science to add value to your organization and grow his career.

Toronto, ON
(416) 854-3552
akhbaribeh@gmail.com
GitHub: Beh5611
Linked-In: Behrouz Akhbari
Website: akhbaribeh.netlify.app

GENERAL WORK EXPERIENCE

BreqLabs, Toronto, ON — High School COOP

October 2018 - January 2019

- 3D design and printing, soldering.
- Helped brainstorm and design innovative human-technology interaction solutions.

Toronto Police Department — Youth in Policing Initiative

September 2017 - December 2017

- Learned a great deal about human rights and laws.
- Helped in community events.

EDUCATION

University of Toronto — Bachelor of Science

Computer Science Major

September 2020 - PRESENT

PROJECTS | more info available on portfolio website

Portfolio Website — React / CSS | akhbaribeh.netlify.app

A responsive website built with React to display my projects and skillset.

Shell Replica — C | Academic

A fully functional mock shell with functionalities such as background processing, pipes and network support.

Three Musketeers — Java / JavaFX / GitHub | Academic

A board game with GUI (JavaFX) to play on as well as some additional functionalities such as saving a game and loading a previously saved game. Completed in a group, using Agile and Scrum methodologies.

Trie Tree Project — Python | Academic

A dictionary capable of autocompletion, autocorrection and sorting.

PROGRAMMING LANGUAGES

Python – Proficient

Java – Proficient

C – Intermediate

HTML / CSS / JS – Intermediate

Bootstrap – Novice

React – Intermediate

ExpressJS / NodeJS – Beginner

SKILLS AND TOOLS

Data Structures and algorithms

OOP principles and Design
Patterns

Git / GitHub

Unit Testing

Agile / Scrum

SOFT SKILLS

Critical Thinker / Problem Solver

Team Player

Desire to Learn / Motivated

Fast Learner